Homeowner and POA member

Why I am a candidate for the Board of Directors of the Padre Isles POA and how I can contribute to the healthy growth of North Padre Island.

North Padre Island has been my home since 1999. I love this unique oasis and the lifelong Islander friends I'm privileged to know. As POA homeowners, we each need to do our part to preserve the beauty of our surroundings, safeguard the increasing value of our homes, and ensure the safety and welfare of our neighbors. I believe my special skills can contribute to our Island's healthy growth and preservation as the ideal location we are so fortunate to call home.

At this point in my life I can afford to give the time and attention our fellow POA members deserve to help protect and maintain high standards of island living. As an entrepreneur, with an extensive career in media communications, I have developed the business acumen needed to help the POA fulfill its mission and goals. In 1996 I founded Cutright Communications, L.L.C. which provides marketing, advertising, and video production services to clientele on a global level. My team has assisted major corporations, non-profits, and higher educational institutions in designing strategies and tactics to help brand their image, train personnel, and increase public awareness of their products and services. My broadcast and corporate background have helped me realize the benefits of strategic planning and cost-effective implementation. Whatever the goal may be, promoting open dialogue and strengthening personal relationships among all team members, including the Board of Directors of the POA, homeowners, and government officials, is key to finding common ground and ensuring long-term success.

How we maintain our properties and common areas reflects on our entire community. For the welfare of all POA members, we must do our due diligence to reinforce our image as the go-to-destination for family living and recreation. We are blessed to live on this special oasis and owe it to each other and to the Island to preserve its beauty and resources. Thank you for your consideration.
